

Woodland Friends

A Story Coloring Book

Welcome to Woodland Friends

Follow Nutmeg the Fox and her friends as they search for the Golden Acorn for the big Forest Party.

Read each page's story out loud, then color the scene
before turning to the next page.

Tips:

- Crayons or thick markers work great for younger colorers.
- There's no wrong way to color a fox pink or a bear blue!

© Bookly / Paper & Ink Studio. For the personal, printable use of the purchaser only.
Please do not resell, share, or redistribute this file.

Nutmeg the fox loved the Forest Party.
This year, she wanted to find something special to bring.

She set off through the woods and soon spotted Bella the Rabbit nibbling clover.

"I'll come too!" said Bella, hopping over to join her.

Deep in the trees,
they heard a soft hoot high above.

They found Owen the Owl watching quietly from a branch.

"The Golden Acorn is past the river,"
Owen said, leaning down to see them better.

Owen swooped down from his branch to help them find the way.

Next they met Sammy the Squirrel, snacking on a nut atop an old stump.

But a big shape blocked the path ahead...
it was Barnaby the Bear!

"Looking for the Golden Acorn?" asked Barnaby.
"Follow me — I know a shortcut!"

They reached a wide river, crossed by an old wooden log.

Just past the river
stood a giant, old oak tree.

And there it was — the Golden Acorn, waiting quietly under its roots!

All the friends carried it home together.
The Forest Party had never been so bright!

The End

Thanks for coloring along with the Woodland Friends!