Happy Halloween - kindness is the best treat!

Rosie, Coco, Buddy, and Hazel were excited for Halloween.

They opened an invitation to the Cheerful Halloween Parade.

The map showed a pumpkin patch beyond the little bridge.

The friends packed a wagon with baskets and art supplies.

They followed a leaf-covered path toward the pumpkin patch.

Buddy found a pumpkin that was round and smooth.

Hazel chose the smallest pumpkin in the patch.

Together, they loaded four pumpkins into their wagon.

The friends carefully rolled the wagon back home.

Each friend drew a happy face for a pumpkin lantern.

Rosie scooped out seeds while Buddy held the pumpkin.

Coco added a smiling moon shape to her pumpkin.

Hazel decorated her pumpkin with hearts and stars.

The friends used safe lights inside their lanterns.

Four bright pumpkin lanterns lined the clubhouse path.

They hung a moon-and-star garland between two trees.

Rosie added paper pumpkins to the party decorations.

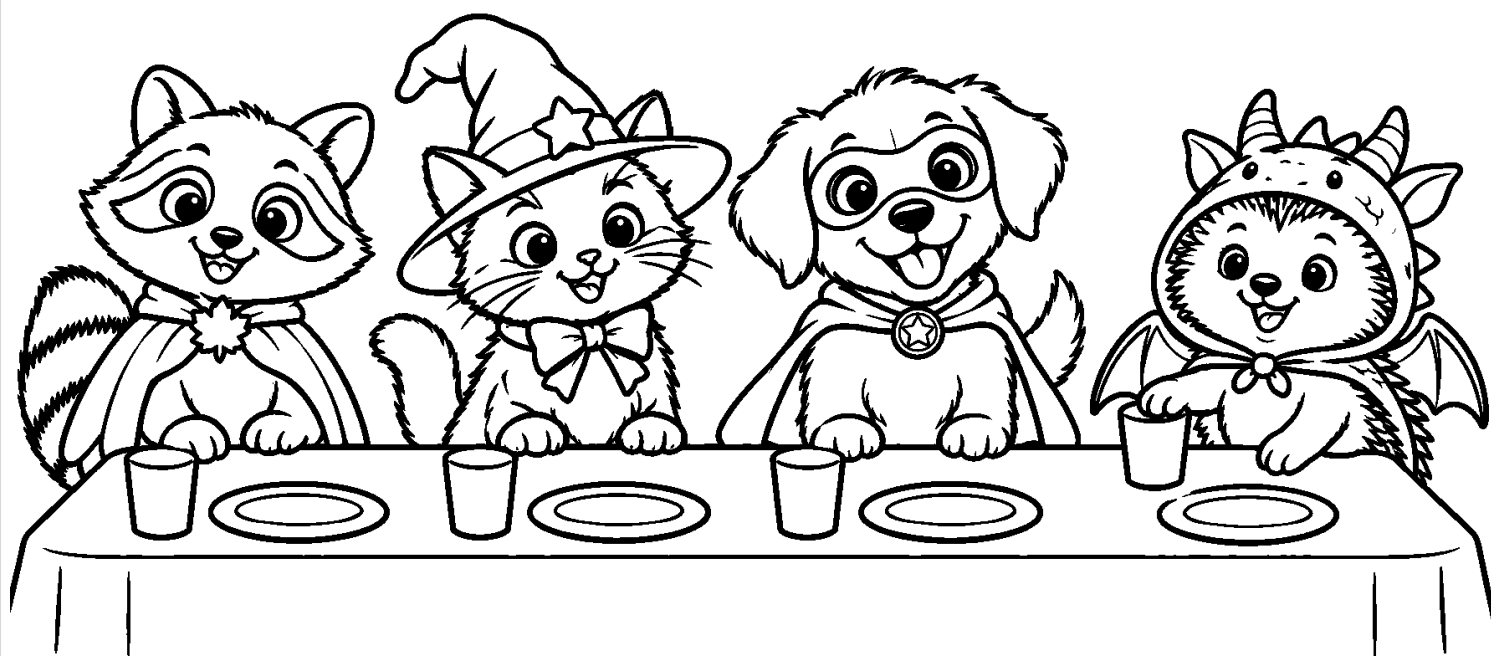

Coco placed four large stars on the clubhouse wall.

Buddy carried a basket of apples to the party table.

Hazel arranged four cups and four plates.

A gust of wind blew the decorations onto the grass.

The friends gathered every decoration into one neat pile.

Rosie tied a stronger string while Buddy held the stool.

Soon the pumpkin garland hung proudly above the door.

The four friends began their friendly Halloween parade.

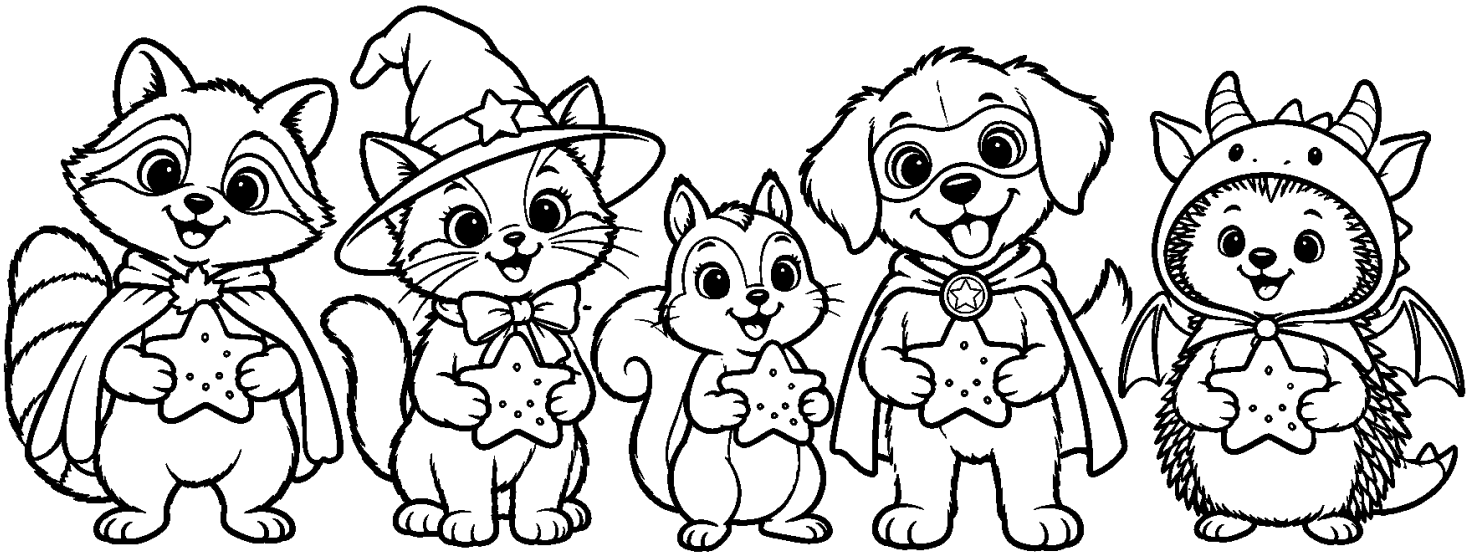

A little mouse in a cape waved from a doorstep.

A kind deer placed apples into their treat bags.

A squirrel shared four big star-shaped cookies.

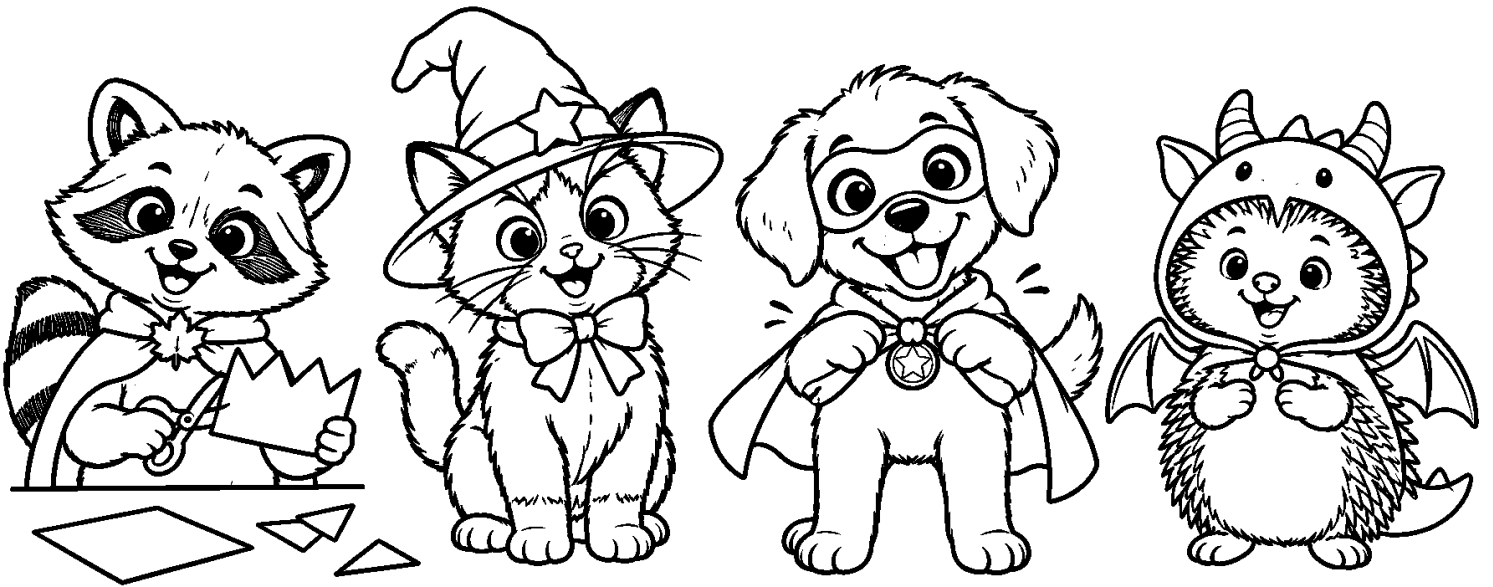

The friends met a shy hedgehog without a costume.

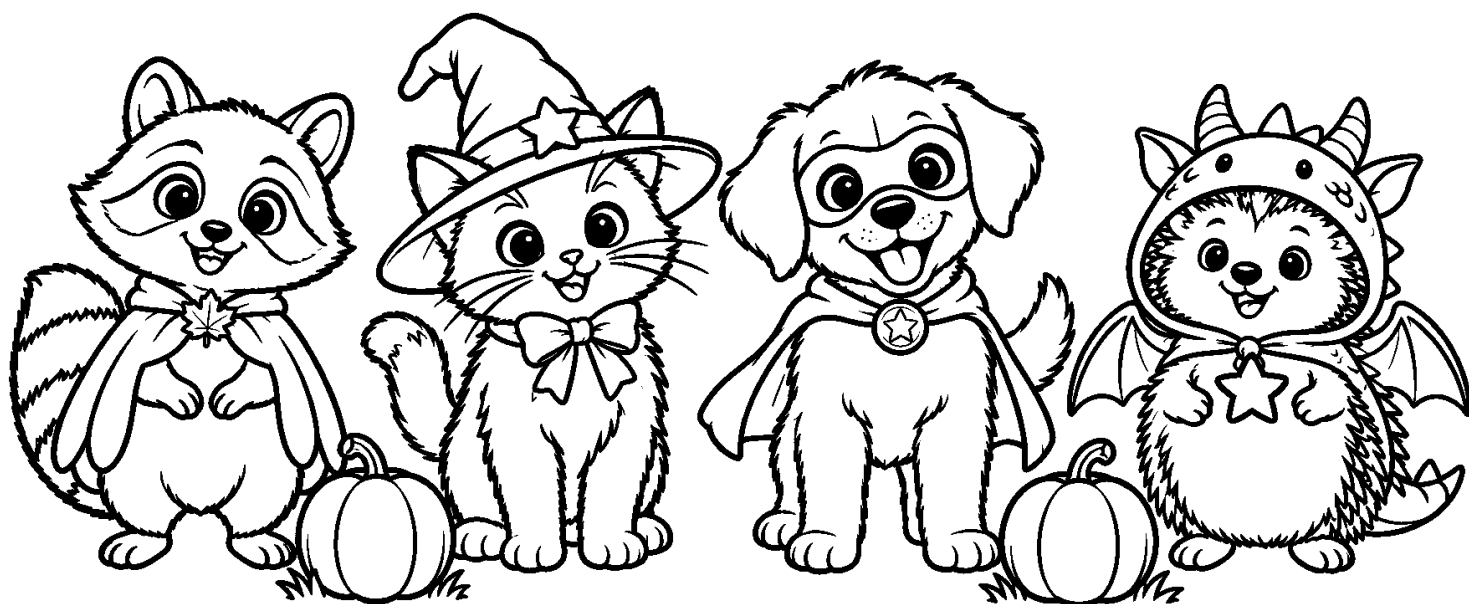

They opened their craft box and offered to help.

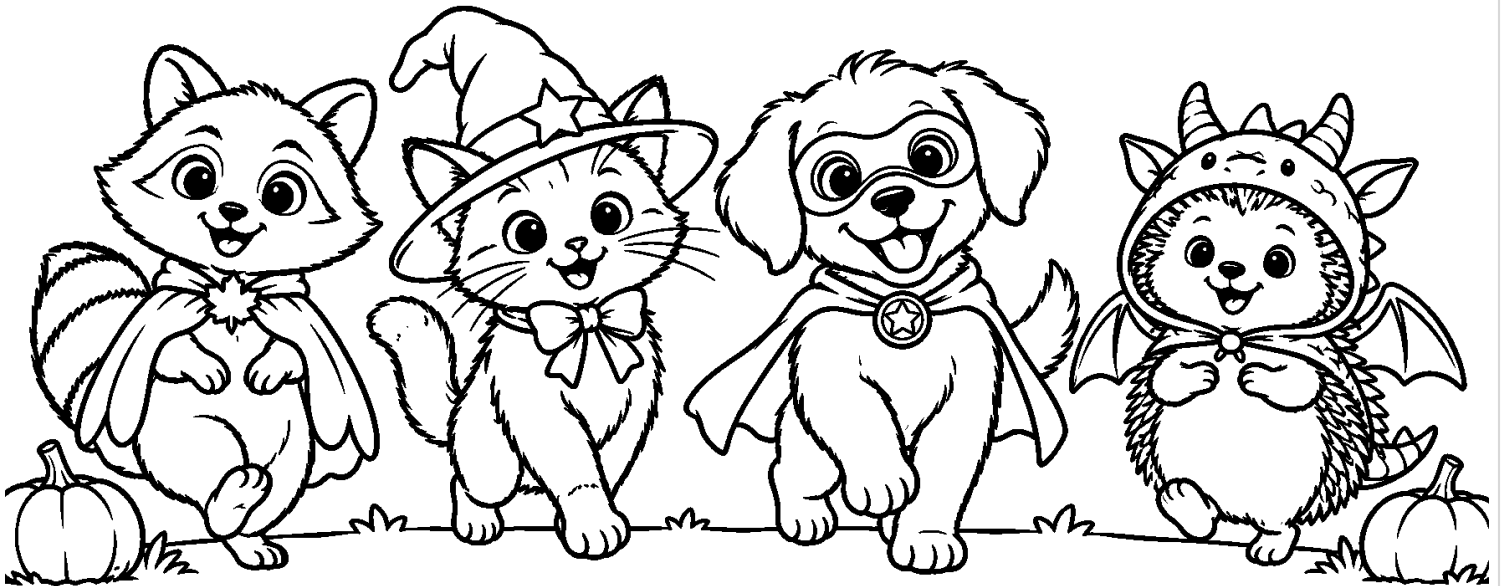

Coco made a crown while Rosie tied a cape.

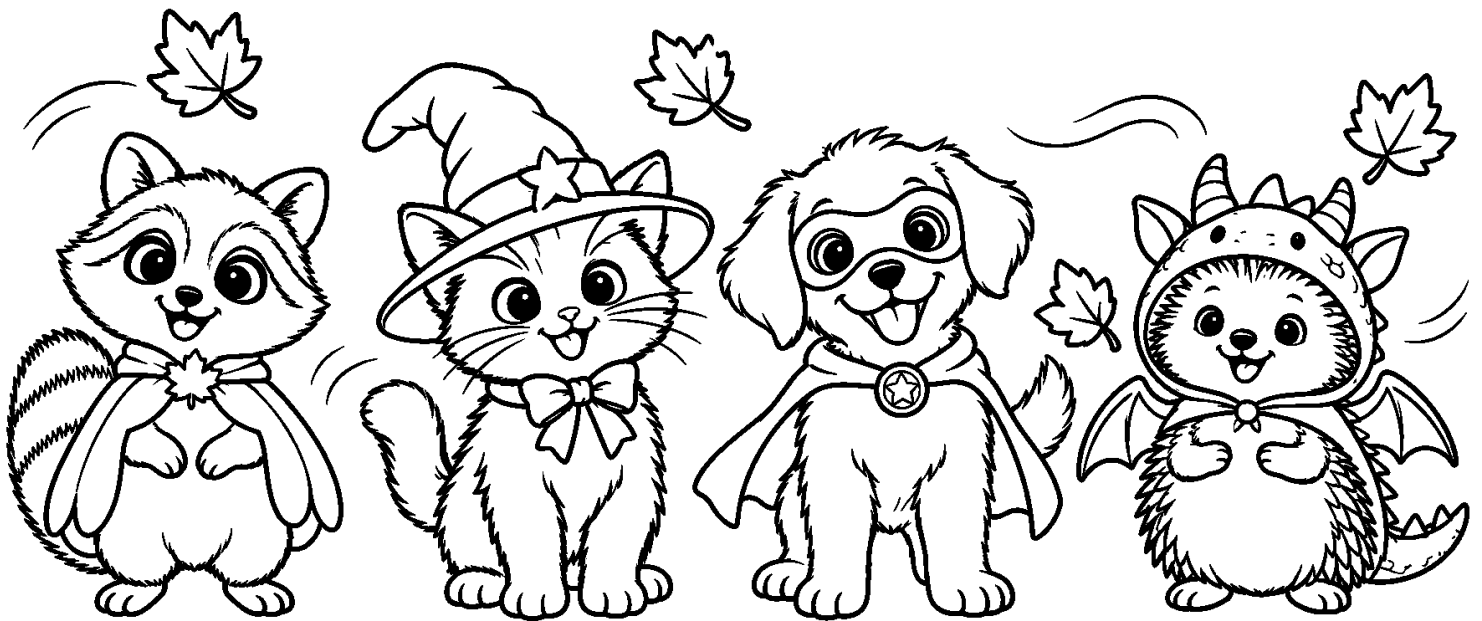

Buddy added a star badge, and Hazel smiled warmly.

The happy hedgehog joined the cheerful parade.

Autumn leaves danced around everyone in the breeze.

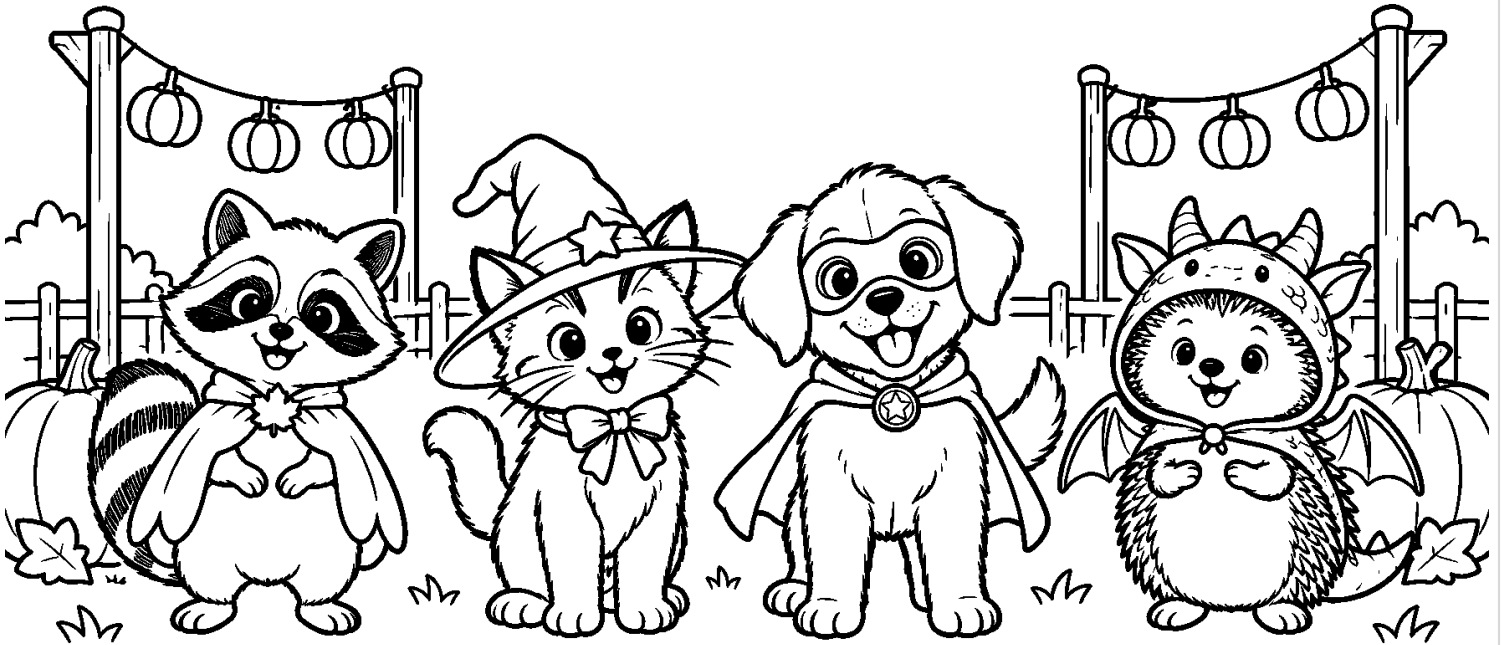

One treat bag tore, and the goodies tumbled out.

The friends quickly gathered every apple and cookie.

Rosie repaired the torn bag with a strong ribbon.

The parade arrived at the village pumpkin festival.

Friendly neighbours displayed pumpkins with happy faces.

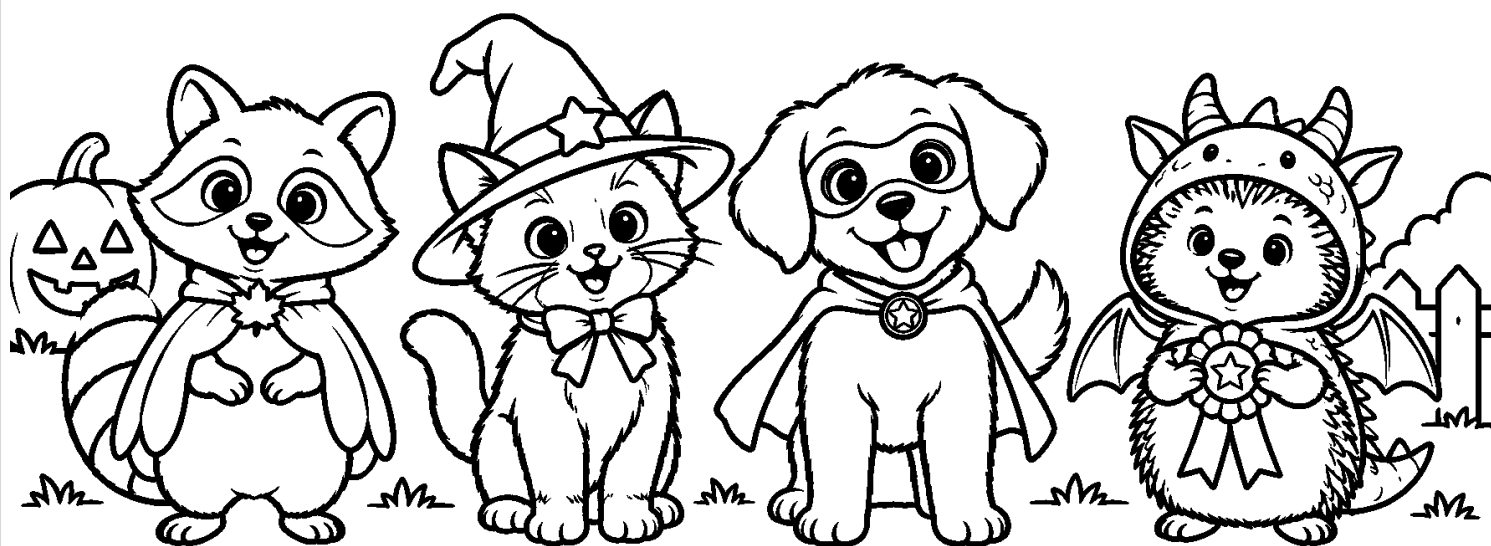

The four friends placed their lanterns on the long table.

Everyone marched past the glowing pumpkins together.

Coco led a cheerful Halloween song beneath the moon.

The friends played a simple pumpkin-ring game.

They shared apples and cookies with every guest.

The shy hedgehog won a prize for the kindest costume.

The four friends waved goodbye beneath the stars.

They walked home together, proud of their happy Halloween.
